

UNRULY ELEMENTS

Damaging Fires Are Caused by Lightning.

FATALITIES FROM INTENSE HEAT

Heavy Rains in Texas Result in Floods Which Do Great Damage to Property—Snow Reported at Points in Colorado, With Freezing Temperatures at Leadville.

Chester, Pa., July 4.—A wind and thunderstorm swept over Chester, unroofing small buildings and doing great damage to telephone, telegraph and electric light systems. The United Telephone exchange was set on fire and many wires destroyed, entailing a loss of $5,000. The front of L. E. Scher-mers' bottling warehouse was knocked into the street and the roof of his stable was ripped by lightning.
The loss in the city is estimated at $20,000.

Lightning struck a tank at the pure oil works at Marcus Hook, setting fire and destroying the tank and 80,000 gallons of oil. The loss is $20,000, covered by insurance.

Heavy Rains Cause Flood.
Dallas, Tex., July 4.—The heaviest rain that has visited the Trinity and Red river valleys in years swept over many acres of fine farming land and flooding the city of Gainesville. The streets of that city were under from two to four feet of water for several hours, but the water receded and all danger is past. While Gainesville and other towns suffered considerable property loss, the heaviest burden will fall upon the railroads. Many washouts occurred and in a few places the tracks were undermined from the heavy downpour. There was no loss of life from the torrent. A northbound Santa Fe passenger train ran into a washout south of Gainesville and Engineer M. R. Boyce was killed. No one else was injured.

Fall 20 Degrees in 20 Minutes.
Philadelphia, July 4.—The hot spell which began here July 1 was at least temporarily broken by a heavy thunderstorm. The temperature was not as high as on the two previous days, the maximum being 90 degrees. During the storm the temperature fell 20 degrees in 20 minutes. Three deaths and about a score of prostrations due to the heat were reported by police.

Heat Caused Seven Deaths.
Chicago, July 4.—Friday was the most uncomfortable day of the present heat wave, and the prostrations and deaths increased accordingly. Seven persons died during the day as a result of the heat and 18 suffered prostration. The mercury stood on the street level at 94, and the humidity was 70 per cent.

Five Fall From Heat.
Indianapolis, July 4.—The mercury reached 94, the hottest of the year. At Muncie, after five workmen had fallen in front of the furnaces at the American Rolling Mill company and plant, the leading workmen quit work. They went out against the will of the management, who had a hurried order to fill.

Two Fatalities From Heat.
Hammond, Ind., July 4.—Two fatalities occurred here from the heat.
While preparing dinner Mrs. George Ehorg dropped to the kitchen floor and died an hour later. Arthur Hermann, a fireman, was overcome by the heat and will die. It was the hottest day Hammond has ever had.

Intense Heat at Washington.
Washington, July 4.—Intense heat prevailed again in Washington, the street thermometers recording 102½ degrees, one degree higher than on Thursday. The weather bureau record showed a maximum of 95 degrees. One fatal and one probably fatal case of sunstroke occurred.

Four Dead, Twenty Prostrated.
New York, July 4.—Four deaths and a score of prostrations were the result of the torrid weather. George W. Middleton, an actor who played with Booth, Barrett, and McCullough, was taken to a hospital suffering from the heat.

Hot at Columbus.
Columbus, O., July 4.—With the mercury at 93, the hottest weather experienced this year, many prostrations from the heat are reported. Miss Rosie Morrison was overcome by the heat while upon the street. Her condition is serious.

Wabash on a Rampage.
Lafayette, Ind., July 4.—Heavy rains have forced the Wabash river out of its banks. Hundreds of acres of corn and oats are covered by from one to six feet of water. The river has risen 15 feet during the last 24 hours.

Several Minutes of Snow.
Cheney, Wyo., July 4.—Snow fell here for several minutes. The weather has been cold for 48 hours and vegetation has been given a setback. A cold rain has been falling for 24 hours.

Snow Falls in Colorado.
Boulder, Colo., July 4.—Word was received from Eldora that four inches of snow fell there.

REVIEW OF TRADE.

Fiscal Year Commences Under Quite Favorable Circumstances.

New York, July 4.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade says: A new fiscal year has commenced under more favorable auspices than appeared possible a short time ago, the improvement being due in no small measure to the greater conservatism that was an outgrowth of unsettled conditions. Seasonable weather has also contributed to the better distribution of merchandise, besides encouraging buoyant sentiment in the agricultural districts. Railway earnings and output of pig iron were larger, while insolencies were fewer. Earnings of railways thus far reported for June surpass last year by 10 per cent, and those of 1901 by 15.4 per cent.
More inquiries for pig iron have appeared, and although the actual contracts for comparatively small quanties, the tone is distinctly better.

The strike of coal miners in Alabama threatens to restrict output of southern iron. Steel rails are still the best feature in the market for finished products. Fully half a million tons are now booked for next year's delivery and many orders for 1903 will be carried over. Structural material moves freely, considering the labor situation. Shoe shipments last week were among the heaviest in years.

Business failures in the United States for the week ending July 3 number 162, against 171 last week, 138 in the like week of 1902, 145 in 1901, 146 in 1900 and 136 in 1899.

Will Not Change Sabbath.

Detroit, Mich., July 4.—This conference declares itself in favor of maintaining the historical Sabbath as a fundamental institution of Judaism, and of exerting every effort to improve its observance, and instruct the executive committee to appoint a special committee to study methods of carrying this into effect. The Central Conference of American Rabbis placed itself on record on the Sabbath question after an eight-hour session by the adoption of the foregoing amendment to the report of the Sabbath commission on the question, "What is our attitude on the Sabbath question?"

Great Destitution Prevails.

Hanna, Wyo., July 4.—Great destitution prevails among the families of the 235 men who lost their lives in the mine disaster Tuesday. Charitable people in the western states are urged to send liberal assistance to the mayor of Hanna, without delay. Everything possible is being done to recover the bodies of 230 miners still entombled, but fire, smoke and gas make progress very slow. It may be Monday or later before any more corpses shall be removed.

Allowed Postmasters' Claims.

Washington, July 4.—The postoffice department allowed $144,468 to postmasters throughout the United States during the fiscal year just ended for the loss of money order funds, postal funds and other postoffice property resulting from burglary and also from fire or other unavoidable cause. Claims were made for a much larger sum, but many of them were disallowed owing to contributory negligence of the postmasters.

Marconi System For Navy.

Washington, July 4.—Rear Admiral Bradford has ordered 20 sets of wireless telegraph for installation on the flagships and scouts which will participate in the summer maneuvers. The Topeka and Prairie will soon install wireless telegraph sets for experimental purposes.

President at Clam Bake.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., July 4.—President Roosevelt enjoyed his first clam bake of the year. It was preceded by an invigorating row of several miles in a small boat, and both the president and his family and friends were quite ready for the feast when it was ready for them.

Postmaster Shoots Farmhand.

Clinton, Ia., July 4.—Hans Hanson, postmaster of Almont, this county, emptied the contents of a shotgun into the abdomen of George Lashelle, a farmhand. Hanson gave himself up and is out on bail. The shot penetrated six intestines. Lashelle will die.

INDEPENDENCE DAY.

OFFERED GOVERNOR BRIDE.

One Hundred Thousand Dollars Said to Have Been Tendered.

St. Louis, July 4.—Evidence gathered by District Attorney Folk in the bottle inquiry discloses that, while governor of Missouri, L. V. Stephens, now vice president of the Missouri Trust company of St. Louis, was offered $100,000 of Transit stock after he signed the bill which legalized the consolidation of all St. Louis street railways, with the exception of the Suburban, and the further sum of $20, 000 if he would appoint James J. Bas-ler, son of "Colonel" Ed Butler, excise commissioner of St. Louis.

Will Remove Petty.

Washington, July 4.—The board of commissioners of the District of Columbia advised James T. Petty, auditor of the district, that he could no longer serve in that office as a result of the negligent methods which made possible the recent defalcation of $73,000 by James M. Watson, one of his trusted clerks. The commissioners have offered Mr. Petty a place on the board of personal tax appraisers at a salary of $600 a year less than he now receives. Alexander McKenzie of that board, and a former deputy auditor under Petty, is slated as Petty's successor.

Contest Over McCann Estate.

St. Louis, July 4.—Mrs. Jessie Mc-Cann, widow of the late James H. Mc-Cann, for whose murder "Lord" Barrington has been held to the grand jury, applied to the probate court for letters of administration of the estate of her late husband. Her application was contested by B. T. Hume of Lexington, Ky., a brother-in-law of James P. McCann, and by Joseph McCann of Grove, I. T., a brother of the murdered man. A compromise was finally reached by the appointment of Garrard Strode, public administrator, to administer the estate.

Postal Employees Jollify.

Washington, July 4.—Almost the entire personnel of the postoffice department, including the office of the auditor of treasury for the department, participated in a patriotic celebration in the postoffice building. Acting Postmaster General Wynne excused all the employees of the department when the ceremony began. Auditor Castle made an address, and in addition to singing by a special male chorus and a recitation of Kipling's "Recessional," patriotic airs were sung by the audience.

Raid Gamblers' Rendezvous.

Kansas City, Mo., July 4.—Kansas City, Kan., the rendezvous for gamblers of the middle west, was the scene of an active raid by the police, when more than 300 slot machines were turned to the wall and seven gambling houses closed. Mayor Gilbert said later that this was the first act in cleaning the city. The poolrooms were not molested.

Huntington, W. Va., July 4.—The Kanawha Gas and Coal company has sold all of its holdings on the north side of the Kanawha river to state capitalists for $75,000.

Into Bankruptcy.

Huntington, Ind., July 4.—A petition for the appointment of a trustee in bankruptcy for the Comstock Novelty company was filed.

DEMANDS PRESENTED

Anglo-Japanese Note Is Given to China.

MANCHURIA MUST BE EVACUATED

Chinese Empire Is Given Elvo Days to Answer to Demands—Support of American Minister Is Requested by China in Settling the Dispute With Russia and the Powers.

Odessa, July 4.—According to advices received by the St. Petersburg newspaper Sviet from Japan, the British and Japanese ministers at Peking have presented a note to the Chinese government in the following terms: First, Russia's occupation of Manchuria threatens the maintenance of peace in the far east and injures the interests of England and Japan. Second, if the departure of the Russians from Manchuria is indefinitely postponed England and Japan must proceed to protect their interests.

Third, China must demand from Russia the immediate evacuation of Manchuria. Fourth, Great Britain and Japan acknowledge no treaty between Russia and China which does not bind Russia to evacuate Manchuria.

Fifth, if, after the evacuation of Manchuria a treaty between China and Russia with respect to the civil administration of Manchuria is declared necessary, such treaty can only be concluded with the approval of Great Britain and Japan. Sixth, a reply to this note is demanded within five days.

Prince Ching, president of the foreign board, adds the Sviet, has counseled the empress dowager to accept the Anglo-Japanese demands, and has also requested United States Minister Conger to give them his support.

Pacific Cable Completed.

Honolulu, July 4.—The cable ship Anglia arrived here, bearing the Honolulu end of the trans-Pacific cable, now extending from Manila via Guam and Midway island, to this port. The cable will be laid at once and connected with the section of the line from Honolulu to San Francisco, already in operation. Unless some unforeseen event should occur, the complete line will be in operation by morning, in accordance with the announcement made long since by Laurence Mackay, president of the Pacific Commercial Cable company.

Former Challenger Crippled.

New York, July 4.—A sudden shift of wind brought Sir Thomas Lipton's former challenger, crippled and limp-ing, across the finish line minus her club today, only four minutes behind the slippery new cup hunter, Shamrock III, after the latter had beaten her 8 minutes and 20 seconds in 25 miles of a salt-strengthened trial before the old boat was utterly disabled. The club topsail pole of Shamrock I broke at the topmast head when she had four miles to sail. She was 13 minutes behind.

Negro Jerked Up.

Charlotte, N. C., July 4.—John Osborne, who criminally assaulted a afterward robbed Miss Lizzie Wentz, a white woman aged 60, was taken from the officers while en route to jail and hanged by a mob.

MEDICAL MEETING.

The regular monthly meeting of the Licking County Medical society will be held in the convention room of the Court House on Tuesday afternoon, July 7.

Dr. C. H. Wells of Summit Station will read a paper on "Prophylaxis and Treatment of Puerperal Infection."

Dr. Barker of Newark will present an especially prepared paper on "Rheumatism."

Dr. C. A. Hatch will address the society on "Treatment of Typhoid Fever."

HEAT RECORD.

Ninety-three in the shade with enough moisture in the air to make it feel like 105 and not a leaf stirring was the kind of weather Newark people enjoyed yesterday and the glorious Fourth bids fair to equal or better this record.

In Chicago yesterday there were seven deaths from heat, in New York four, Philadelphia three, Baltimore one, Washington one, Hammond, Ind., two.
Newark is fortunate to have had no prostrations thus far.

Newark people may derive a little comfort from the following dispatch which comes from Leadville, Col.:

The snowstorm which usually reaches Leadville on July 4 arrived one day ahead of time. It snowed hard nearly all day, and there is an inch of snow on the ground. The thermometer stood last night at the freezing point.

FOR THE AUDITORIUM THE COM-ING SEASON.

At a meeting of the Board of Trustees of the Memorial Hall held Friday night, the proposition of Mr. Fred Moseller to furnish an orchestra for the Auditorium for next season was accepted, providing he entered into a contract satisfactory to the Board.

T. J. Little of Newark and Prof. Gabriel of Zanesville were also bidders for the contract of furnishing the music for next year.

Never in Newark's history was there such a high standard of musical excellence, as was maintained by the orchestra last season, and Mr. Moseller will continue practically the same personnel and instrumentation this season. Mr.
Otto Meyer's playing will probably be missed, but an able leader will be secured who is a violinist of first class ability also.

Arrangements were also made to make some needed repairs in the auditorium, and considerable routine business was transacted.

HAVE POOR WATER.

Water Supply of But Twenty-Two Ohio Cities Is Good.

Columbus, O., July 4.—The state board of health announced that it had examined the water supply of 22 cities and found it good. No report was made of cities where the water was found to be of unsatisfactory quality, but it is known the board discovered impure water. It is no secret that the water used in the larger cities has been regarded as unfit. The cities declared to have good water are: Athens, Carthage, Granville, East Palestine, Continental, Glendale, Oberlin, Wellston, Carey, Lisbon, Springfield, Mt. Vernon, Montpelier, Norwood, Osborn, Perryville, Pledmont, Plain City, Reading, Orville, St. Bernard, Bryan and Rockford.

Recovering From Attempted Suicide.

Portsmouth, O., July 4.—John K.
Duke, the defaulting secretary and treasurer of the Royal Building association, was able to be out for the first time since he attempted suicide last week. Mr. Duke's accounts with the various insurance companies he represented were examined and found to be absolutely correct. Dr. C. P.
Dennis will likely be the new secretary of the Royal Building and Loan company. The examiners have concluded their report and have forwarded the same to Columbus.

Boy Drowned In Pond.

Van Wert, O., July 3.—Harold Hol-try, aged 12, son of Bert Holtry, drowned in a pond on the Marsh farm.
Young Holtry, with a couple of companions, was out gathering berries, and when passing the pond Holtry's hat blew in. His companions tried to persuade him to leave the hat go, but he thought he could recover it. He stripped off and started in but was soon beyond his depth and went down.
His companions were unable to give him any assistance. His body was recovered by a farmer.

Woman Caused Tragedy.

Columbus, July 4.—As a result of a fight in the saloon of Angelo Ruff, Eugene O'Connor, aged 16, is in the hospital in a serious condition with a large knife wound in his side, and the police are endeavoring to catch his assailant, Charles Bunch. The cause of the quarrel is said to have been a woman, over whom the young men were jealous.

Machen Sued.

Toledo, O., July 4.—August W. Machen, under indictment at Washington, is having troubles of his own. Together with his mother he has been sued here by ex-Postmaster Brand for $500 on a promissory note given 10 years ago.

Creston Mill Burned.

Wooster, O., July 4.—The largest flouring mill in Wayne county, located at Creston, was entirely destroyed by fire. The mill was owned by the Creston Milling company, and the loss will be about $25,000.

One Striker Kills Another.

Richmond, Va., July 4.—The first fatality of the streetcar strike occurred when Charles E. Graham, a striking motorman, died from a merciless slashing at the hands of W. H.
Lowery, another striking motorman.
The attack on him was due to a rumor alleged to have been started by him that two of the strikers were trying to get their positions back. Graham leaves a wife and three children. The coroners jury held the case to be one of justifiable homicide. There were no developments in the strike situation.

Will Return to Work.

Indiana Harbor, Ind., July 4.—The strike at the Inland Steel company's plant here has been settled, and 800 men will return to work Monday. The men are granted a slight advance in wages.

Two Thousand Colored Teachers.

Tuskegee, Ala., July 4.—The Tuskegee Normal institute will open its first summer school next Monday.
About 2,000 colored teachers of the south are expected to be in attendance.

Lures Mosquitoes to Death.

Boston, July 4.—The Brookline board of health, which is systematically exterminating mosquitoes by means of kerosene oil, is now about to take up a suggestion calling attention to a new process for lessening the evil by means of musical sounds. The discoverer of the new process says: "It has been found that practical application has been effected by raising to a great number of vibrations per second the particular note to which the mosquito is most sensitively attuned. This intensified note produced by sudden electrical impulse upon a musical instrument causes every mosquito near to plunge headlong into the instrument and die."

Unraveled the Mystery.

Chicago, July 4.—The police thought that they were confronted with a murder mystery. Charles Gilmore, an expression man, reported that his wagon had been stolen during the night and recovered at an early hour in the morning, with blood on the inside. A. M.
Nelson, a tailor, whose shop is a short distance from the stable of Gilmore, reports that the front of his store had been broken open, and that there was blood on the sidewalk. After investigation the police concluded that three men who were seen to take the wagon had attempted to rob Nelson's store, and that in breaking the window one of them severed an artery.

TREATIES IN SENATE

Cuban Republic Will Secure Isle of Pines.

UNCLE SAM GETS NAVAL STATIONS

Fugitives From Justice Amenable to Laws of Cuba Will Not Be Protected on American Soil—Other Features of Treaties to Be Ratified Within Seven Months.

Havana, July 4.—The United States naval stations treaty and the Isle of Pines treaty were read in the senate and referred to the committee on foreign relations without comment. The text of both treaties is brief and simple, the naval stations treaty containing seven articles and the Isle of Pines treaty four articles. The ratifications of both are required to be exchanged at Washington within seven months.
In the naval stations treaty the United States agrees to pay $2,000 annual rental as long as it occupies the stations. Article one provides that Cuba is to acquire forthwith all private and other realty within the required areas, the United States agreeing to furnish the money necessary for the purchase of private properties, such sums to be advance payments of its rent.

Article two requires the United States to mark the boundaries of the stations' areas by permanent fences or other enclosures.

Under article three the United States agrees to prevent the establishment of commercial, industrial or other enterprises within the areas.

Article four says fugitives from justice who are amenable to Cuban law, and who take refuge within the areas of the naval stations, shall be delivered to the Cuban authorities on demand, and fugitives charged with crimes and misdemeanors committed within the areas who are amenable to the law of the United States shall be delivered to the United States authorities from Cuban territory.

According to article five, materials, all kinds of merchandise, stores and munitions of war imported into the areas for exclusive use and consumption therein shall not be subject to customs duties or other charges, and the vessels carrying the same shall not pay port tonnage or other fees unless they discharge outside the limits of the areas. It is agreed that no material, merchandise, stores or munitions are to be transported from the areas into Cuban territory.

Article six enacts that, except as above provided, vessels entering or leaving the bays of Guantanamo and Bahia Honda shall be subject exclusively to Cuban laws and the Cuban authorities, and the United States agrees to place no obstacle in the way of their entries or departures excepting in case of war.

In the Isle of Pines treaty the United States relinquished to Cuba all claim of title to the Isle of Pines which has been made by virtue of the treaty of Paris.

Offers to Aid Inquiry.

Washington, July 4.—The secretary of war received a letter from Representative Littaur of New York offering to aid the department in every way in his power in connection with the award of contracts for supplying the army with gloves, and inclosing a copy of his testimony in regard to his connection with the army glove contracts as given in the recent judicial proceedings. Before going to New York Secretary Root issued formal instructions to the inspector general to make a thorough and complete investigation of the Lyons contract. The secretary is determined that every fact shall be ascertained in order that the department may take proper action.

Rescued by Firemen.

New York, July 4.—Twenty-one persons unconscious from smoke were rescued by firemen from a blazing four-story frame building in Newark avenue, Jersey City. The blaze was so hot that the firemen could not work fast enough with their ladders, and several of the rescued were tossed safely into the life net. Two of the victims are in the hospital suffering from burns and the inhalation of smoke. The fire, which the police say was of incendiary origin, caused only

Gare Counts

The issues of life and death depend on the potency of a drug sometimes—often than we are apt to think. When your physician prescribes a remedy he expects certain results; if the remedy supplied be lacking in purity or strength, it may fail in its purpose.

We think of these things. We take care to see that every drug we use in prescriptions is absolutely pure and of standard potency. We have had 21 years' experience, and can assure you that if you permit us to compound your prescriptions you can feel secure about them.

REV. DANIEL SHEPARDSON

(By Rev. Daniel Shepardson)
Asked by friends to write the Advocate a few lines about our recent travels, from which we have just returned to Newark, I take pleasure in sending you the following letter.

Mrs. Shepardson and I closed our season of special services and Bible Lectures, which has ranged this year from New York to San Francisco, at Santa Barbara, Cal., on May 17th. Having never before been west of the Rockies and having heard so much of the scenic grandeur of our great Pacific slope we determined to see some of its far famed places. The first few days we spent among the glories which in many ways we had been enjoying for fifteen days in that American metropolis, Santa Barbara. Having been at Los Angeles during the Floral Fiesta and seen the city in gala attire at the President's visit we did not tarry there at this time but hurried on to the South Pasadena Ostrich Farm. These great birds as they tip lightly up to the fence and peer over or through present a very amusing spectacle, and are said by those who know to suggest both in their decollete appearance and rather dainty walk a bevy of ballet girls. To follow with the eye the gulps of water as they visibly go down their long throats is great fun. To see them swallow an apple or orange is funnier still. The male ostrich is very gallant, when the female is nesting three times a day he willingly takes his turn sitting upon the eggs while she eats or rests. It is said that they know no divorce but remain true through life to their mates. The wealth of vegetation in the streets and gardens of Pasadena and of Southern California in general is beautiful beyond description and one soon learns to distinguish the eucalyptus, pepper, olive, lemon, orange, cork, date and fan palms, ocaia, loquats and other trees and shrubs.

From Pasadena we ascended by the steep sixty degree incline and the Alpine railroad to the top of Mt. Lowe, where above the clouds we enjoyed a day and night at the Alpine Tavern. The squirrels about the Inn are very tame, while the birds will fly down and eat nuts out of your hand. The next day we went to Long Beach and over to the beautiful island of the sea, Santa Catalina. Here through glass bottom boats we gazed upon the wonders of the deep, examined with interest the wireless telegraph station upon the hill, so new and yet already so familiar a wonder, and then in a steam launch we tried our skill at the picturesque art. And we caught some big fish too! (I may add parenthetically that in order to prove our ministerial veracity we had a picture of them taken). The next day we visited Redlands and Riverdale, two of Southern California's most beautiful show places. Smiley Heights and its environs, Victoria Road and Magnolia Avenue, must be seen to be appreciated. A few hours later found us en route via the Santa Fe's pride, The California Limited to the grand canon of the Colorado. The canon is awful, sublime! Think of a great gash in the earth's side over one mile deep, thirteen miles wide and over two hundred miles long, to say nothing of the scores of s.d.e. canons, all gorgeous in bands of diverse coloring, formation distinct systems of rock formation cropping out at its sides, its cliffs and buttes towering in cathedral grandeur or carved into most fantastic forms. Here surely is the Almighty's master nature wonder! Then we visited beautiful Yosemite and the big trees of Wawona. Those monarchs of the forest, hoary with centuries of time, how magnificent they are! And picturesque Yosemite, who can describe it? Its level grass covered floor, its bettling crags and clean precipitous walls, its charming cataracts, who that has seen them can ever forget? Then hurrying past San Francisco where we had worked during the season, we spent one day in traveling through the beautiful Mt. Shasta region, and after two days of sight seeing in the aggressive city of Seattle, Wash., we sailed upon the palatial excursion "S. S. Spokane" for a twelve day cruise of Alaska's inner seas. No words of mine could ever describe the constantly changing scenic grandeur of this twenty-five hundred mile voyage of which Baedeker, the world round guide book man, says, "The scenery passed en route is of a most grand and unique character, such as probably can not be seen elsewhere at so little cost and with so little toil or adventure." Surely the Alaska trip is the greatest of all trips upon the American continent. And be sure that you take "S. S. Spokane." The spacious harbors and the bustling cities of the Puget Sound, the innumerable snow capped peaks that tower majestic upon either side of the route, the frequent spotting of whales and the howling along of seals and porpoises, the intensely interesting Indian villages and lumber camps along the shores; the buying of baskets, totem poles and carvings from the natives; the beautifully carved colossal icebergs floating by (upon one of them a veritable mountain of ice, we were landed by small boats from the ship); the wonderful Muir and Taku glaciers and minor ones, throwing off constantly with deafening roar huge masses of ice into the sea; the visits to Skagway and Sitka, Skagway with its hundred of gold miners just starting for the spring opening of the Klondike and Yukon districts, and the railroad trip that we had to White Pass Summit along the old gold rush trail past Dead Horse Gulch; and Sitka with its memories and remains of Russian occupation; its old Greek church, its interesting town, its honored Presbyterian Mission (where your scribe had the privilege of preaching the gospel through an interpreter or "interrupter" as she might well be called); fishing for halibut in Alaskan waters (your scribe caught—dare I tell it in gath? a halibut which weighed thirty-five pounds), the stops at Ketchikan, Ft. Wrangel, the deserted Indian town Kaasaan, the new town of Christianized Indians at Mela-Kalla, and at other interesting points, these and other unmentioned pleasures made the Alaskan cruise stand out as the most enjoyable and profitable journey I ever made. We came East from Seattle via the Northern Pacific railroad, stopping for a week's tour of the National Park with the Wiley permanent camp outfit, which is the more reasonable and pleasant way to do the Yellowstone. The wonders of the Nation's play ground are too familiar to your readers to need mention here. Its geysers, paint pots, hot springs, canyons, forests, game, lake, and above all the grand canon of the Yellowstone, not so large but oh, so beautiful, will remain with us always. It was hard to see how anyone at all thoughtful could look upon these unique glories and not reverently worship and bow down before the God who made them. Yours cordially, DANIEL SHEPARDSON.

UNCANNY MEXICAN PLANT.

Peculiar Exhibit For the St. Louis World's Fair.

The Instituto Medico of the City of Mexico, says the Mexican Herald, will send to the St. Louis world's fair an exhibit of about fifty medicinal plants of the country and the products derived therefrom. Accompanying the exhibit will be a complete explanation as to the place where the plants are found, the procedure for converting them into medicinal products and the ailments which they are destined to cure. Included in the exhibit will be a plant of marvelous qualities. It grows wild and abundantly in the state of Michoacan. The Indians claim that whenever they enter a wood or place where this plant grows its aroma makes them lose their way, and they are unable to return to their homes or to reach their destination until they cease to smell the plant. The statement is said to have been fully confirmed a number of times by learned people.

The institute is going to make a scientific study of its physiological effects and an analysis of its properties. A delegate has been sent to Michoacan to obtain a specimen of the plant. It has been further added that a person wearing a branch of this peculiar plant in his buttonhole will often be lost in his native city, but the latter statement has not been confirmed. This plant will be an interesting exhibit at the fair, and if it is sent in large quantities and keeps its qualities in a foreign and distant land the police of St. Louis will have many visitors to guide during the exposition.

White House Visitor Wants Undertakers Called Coffin.

One of the numerous callers at the White House the other day was a "man with a muddled mind," as the secret service guards have dubbed the cranks, says a Washington special to the New York World. This man had a plan for rechristening every person in the country so that their business or profession would be indicated by their names. He wanted the president to approve it.

"Think of a coal dealer named Wood," he said to the guard who headed him off. "His name ought to be Coal. People named Wood should sell nothing but wood. Every undertaker should be named Coffin, and grocers should be called Sugar, Butter, Lard or something of the sort. Thread, Calico, Silk, Button or Cambric should fit dry goods merchants. The man who is running that steam roller should be called Roller."

He said he had come all the way from Chicago to submit his idea and that he wanted no foolishness about it.

CHURCH MERRY GO ROUNDS

Novel Scheme of Two Indiana Societies to Help Finances.

The Baptist and the United Brethren churches of Washington, Davies county, Ind., in an effort to raise finances for the two churches have invested in a merry go round, which is now being erected, says an Indianapolis special to the Chicago Record-Herald.

The two churches will sell tickets, and each church is to receive one-third of the proceeds, while the remaining third will go to the showman to whom the merry go round belongs. Rev. Mr. Miles of the Baptist church and Rev. Mr. Hobson of the United Brethren church are taking an active interest in the sale of tickets, and several members are similarly engaged.

The action of the churches has led to much comment in religious circles, and the outcome of the scheme is being watched with interest.

All school children can compete. Full instructions will be found on inside of each package of Egg-O-See, telling what to do to get the prize and how to make the drawings.

The difference between Egg-O-See and the ordinary flaked wheat food lies in the sanitary care used in its preparation, the selection of wheat and the purity of its flavoring. You can taste this difference.

FLYING PLAN BY HOLLAND.

Submarine Boat Inventor Would Have Men Fitted With Wings.

A special dispatch from Newark, N. J., to the New York Times states that John P. Holland, the inventor of the Holland submarine torpedo boat, will endeavor to solve the problem of aerial navigation, the very simplicity of which, he says, has heretofore prevented its solution.

According to the inventor of the submarine boat, aerial navigation has not been invented because scientists and others have not been working along the right lines, and the practical mode that will be adopted by the next, if not the present, generation will be the use of artificial wings, with which man will fly through the air in imitation of the birds.

Eight years ago, according to Mr. Holland, he constructed three machines that demonstrated conclusively the correctness of his theory, although some mistakes or difficulties in construction led him to destroy them. The defects were purely mechanical and could have been overcome had he continued his experiments. With the submarine boat completed, Mr. Holland will now devote his time to the solution of aerial navigation, provided his health does not prevent it.

OSBURN

The Licking County Young Man Went Through the Mental Examination With Flying Colors.

Mr. Carl Osburn, the young Jackson town man, whom Congressman J. W. Cassingham recently appointed from this district to the Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md., passed the mental examination with flying colors, as has previously been announced in the Advocate.

A special from Annapolis now says that the young man passed the physical test conditionally. He has been advised to submit to a slight operation at Baltimore and to present himself for further examination one month hence.

In as much as this Licking county young man made such a splendid showing at the mental test his many friends throughout the county will hope that he will be soon qualified physically to enter upon his duties as midshipman.

Among the many boys from the different states who took the examination at Annapolis on June 17-18, Ohio had the largest percentage passed. As the test was a very rigid one, the friends and patrons of the Jackson town High School are very much elated over young Mr. Osburn's success. He had one year more to attend the school at Jackson town. Prof. W. T. Atwell, who has been superintendent of the school at Jackson town for the past seven years is to be congratulated. Mr. Osburn has been at Annapolis for a month under the instruction of Mr. R. L. Wrentz.

Out of 553 who started the mental examination last month 75 fell out and 478 finished the test. Of this number 251 passed successfully and Licking county's representative was one of the successful ones.

Big fire crackers, canes with one end fixed to explode percussion caps, the ubiquitous toy pistol and any other noise maker were used, and the din was terrific up till midnight. All around the square caps and even big railroad torpedoes were placed on the street car tracks, and as the cars passed over them the noise was like unto that of a continuous volley of musketry interspersed with the deep death. My husband spent hundreds of see an advertisement of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy with a testimonial of a man who had been cured by it. The case was so similar to my own that I concluded to try the remedy. The result was won-

PERPETUAL FRANCHISES

A Leading Issue In Coming Ohio Campaign--Strong Stand Will Be Taken By the Democrats Against the Iniquity Championed By Hanna and the Republican Candidate for Supreme Judge.

Columbus, O., July 4.—The Republican bosses of Ohio have not found much cause for happiness during the past week. Some time ago they began counting upon Democratic apathy and indifference that have failed to materialize. The original assumption of Mr. Hanna and other leaders that Colonel Herrick would have easy sailing in his candidacy for governor and that no spirited contest would be made for the control of the legislature is proven to have been entirely groundless. Reports received in Columbus from Democratic sources in all parts of the state show conclusively that there is no disposition on the part of the Democracy to compromise with the enemy this year or to surrender a single factor with reference to either the state ticket or the general assembly. Unusual activity is beginning to assert itself among Ohio Democrats in all parts of the state and they are now very far from regarding the condition of the party as hopeless. Colonel Herrick has developed no strength since his nomination. He is more of a drag on the Republican ticket than any gov-ernatorial candidate his party has had in many years.

All the Republican candidates now begin to realize that the Democrats will take advantage of the ammunition placed in their hands by Hanna's record of bribery and corruption in the legislature that elected him senator and his championship of perpetual franchises before that body and before its predecessors and successors. The late decision of the Circuit court or this district in favor of such franchises was rendered in an opinion written by Judge Summers, who is the Republican candidate for justice of the Supreme bench. This decision now vividly calls to mind the part Senator Hanna has played for so many years in favor of the 99-year and 50-year franchise bills and of what he calls "indeterminate" franchises. To a man up a tree it looks very much as if the Republican candidates for United States senator and supreme judge were in "cahoots" on the perpetual franchise question.

In the meantime the candidacy of Auditor of State Guilbert for a third term is an incubus upon the Republican organization and one that is proving more disastrous every day. The combined effect of the adverse influences exerted by the known facts in regard to the quartet composed of Herrick, Hanna, Summers and Guilbert is one most depressing to Republican interests.

In the meantime the Ohio Democracy is not only encouraged by the conditions prevailing in the Republican ranks, but also finds a subject for congratulation in the impetus given the trend of Democratic events during the past week or 10 days. All indications now point to a notable Democratic opportunity in this state next November, if the party takes wise advantage of it between now and the opening of the campaign.

EARLY NEWARK DAYS

Mrs. C. B. Buckingham Who Has Lived In This City for Sixty Years Tells of Some Interesting Incidents of the Long Ago.

Mrs. C. B. Buckingham of 37 Granville street, has had many remarkable experiences and has lived to see the adoption of many new inventions during the many years of her life. She was born in Putnam, near Zanesville, but has lived in Newark for almost sixty years. She is a cousin of the late "Sunset" Cox. Her father, Samuel R.
Buckingham, published the first newspaper printed in Ohio and invented the first power printing press used in this country. The press was named the "Fair Lamb," and was looked upon as a most remarkable invention. Mr.
Buckingham published his paper at Marietta and it was known as the Marietta Gazette. Her name was Buckingham before she married and she wedded a Buckingham.

Mrs. Buckingham owned practically all of the northeast corner of the public square during the early fifties and she resided where Kuster's restaurant now is. At that time the court house yard was a public rooting place for hogs and a pasture land for cattle. It was Mrs. Buckingham that started a crusade that ended in the banishment of the hogs and cattle from the square.
She was publicly thanked for this by Israel Dilly, who planted the trees in the court house yard.

The old stage coaches stopped in front of the old American house. These coaches held six people and were drawn by four horses. There was always a rush to get the front seat. The Friends In Need.

"I don't put much faith in proverbs," said Brown to Jones. "For instance, look at the oft quoted one, 'A friend in need is a friend indeed.' Now, most of my experience with friends in need has been that they wanted to borrow. Give me the friends that are not in need."

Where Diplomacy Is Needed.
Praise is one of the most difficult of things to deal out satisfactorily. If you do not praise a man as liberally as he thinks he deserves, he hates you; if you overpraise him, he sets you down as a sharper or a fool.—Boston Transcript.

The First Step.
Young Woman (before milliner's window, to her maid)—That hat is perfectly lovely. I must have it. Marie, be sure to remind me to kiss my husband when I get home.—Woman's Home Companion.

low."

can.

first steam railroad in Newark came in on Second street. The station was at the "Black Horse" tavern, located on the site of Griggs' store. The first car was brought to Newark over the canal. The canal boats before the advance of the railways did an enormous passenger as well as freight business.
Thus the canal brought the car that was to be the cause of its undoing.

Mrs. Buckingham recalls how the people, more familiar with stages coaches, arose early in the morning of the day of their first railroad ride, to get a front seat on the car.

The first county fair was held in the second story of the old court house.
Mrs. Buckingham took an active part in this fair. "We exhibited grain, fruit and examples of cooking," she said, "but we had no exhibit of stock save for the hogs and cattle in the court house yard."

Newark had no water works system or fire department for many years after Mrs. Buckingham came to the city. When fires arose such as destroyed the buildings where the city building now is, bucket brigades were formed, the women as well as the men, assisting in fighting the fire.

Mrs. Buckingham has lived to see Newark grow from a village of 2000 to a city of 22,000. She has lived to see many transformations and she will probably live to witness many more changes. She is hale and strong looking for her age and stands high in the regard of all who know her.

Dangerous Symptoms.
The story is told of a Scotch preacher who gave his people long, strong sermons and delivered them in a remarkably deliberate manner. One Sunday he asked a friend who was visiting him to occupy his pulpit in the morning.
"An' were you satisfied wi' my preaching?" asked his friend as they walked home from the kirk.
"Weel," said his host slowly, "it was a fair discourse, Will'm; a fair discourse, but it pained me at the last to see the folk looking so fresh and wide-awake. I mistrust 'twasna sae long nor sae sound as it should have been."

European Tattooers.
Tattooing is not by any means confined to savage peoples. There are races in Europe which make it a regular practice, and men, women and children bear on their bodies ornamentations that are as ornate and queer, although not as extensive, as are markings on the bodies of the south sea savages.

These European tattooers are among the Albanians and Bosnians, who live in the famous and notorious Balkan peninsula.

Kidney Disease Kills.

Its Victims Numbered by the Hundreds of Thousands.

Kidney diseases should be attended to at once, for almost 90 per cent. of our unexpected deaths of to-day are from that cause. Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy is the only sure cure known for diseases of the kidneys, liver, bladder and blood, rheumatism, dyspepsia and chronic constipation. Its marvelous how it stops that pain in the back, relieves the necessity of urinating so often at night, drives away that scalding pain in passing water, corrects the bad effects of whiskey and beer and shows its beneficial effects on the system in an incredibly short time.

George L. Smith, foreman of the Holley Manufacturing Company's Works, Lockport, N. Y., says in a recent letter:
"I have used Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy with the most beneficial results. I was troubled with gravel and kidney complaint very severely, it bothered me a great deal, and have found great relief from its use, and cheerfully recommend it."

"Favorite Remedy" is the most successful medicine ever discovered for kidney, bladder, liver and blood diseases.
Its record of cures has made it famous in medical circles everywhere. It is recognized as a specific. It purifies the blood and dissolves the excess of uric acid in it, clears up the urine, restores the kidneys and bladder to their normal condition, and gently moves the bowels.

That Had Never Occurred to Him.

When Lafayette visited Loudoun bounty he was entertained with the other eminent guests by President Monroe at Oak Hill. Leesburg, too, the historic town nine miles from Mon-roe's country seat, accorded him honors on that occasion, and at a dinner at that town John Quincy Adams delivered a famous toast to the surviving patriots of the Revolution, who, he said, were like the silyline leaves—the fewer they became the more precious they were.

On the return to Oak Hill another of Monroe's guests said to Mr. Adams:
"Excuse the impertinence, but would-you not tell me what inspired the beautiful sentiment of your toast today?"

"Why," replied Mr. Adams, "it was suggested this morning by the picture of the silyl that hangs in the hall of the Oak Hill mansion."

"How strange," remarked the less brilliant guest, "I have looked at that picture many times during the past years and that thought never occurred to me."—Leslie's Monthly.

Chewing Dry Rice.

"A strange way of testing the innocence of an accused person is employed in India," said a Philadelphia merchant who lately returned from Madras.
"They haul the man up and give him a mouthful of dry rice to chew. I don't suppose you ever chewed dry rice? Well, it is hard work. It takes a deal of chewing to get it masticated into a glutinous mass like gum, and that is the condition that the accused is required to get it into within ten minutes. If you are calm and not afraid you succeed, but if you are nervous and scared you fail, for it seems that fear has a strong effect upon the salivary glands. It prevents them from secreting saliva. The mouth of a badly frightened person is always dry as a bone.
It requires a tremendous flow of saliva to chew dry rice, and therefore the scared prisoner inevitably fails in this test. It isn't of course a test employed in the courts of the big towns. It belongs to the interior, less enlightened villages."

Reptiles That Walk Erect.

Lizards of several sorts can walk and run easily on their hind legs. The Australian water lizard, which is three or four feet in length, keeps quite erect when traversing long distances on land. It is found in the neighborhood of river banks, and passes much of its time in shallow water.

The frilled lizard of Queensland also travels on its hind legs on level ground, keeping the frill folded when running.
When attacked it expands this fold of skin, which stands out like a ruff at right angles round the neck, giving it a most formidable aspect, so that dogs that attack and kill larger lizards will often retreat before a frilled lizard at bay.

There is also a tree lizard in Australia that moves in a similar way. All these species walk on all fours when merely moving about or going short distances.

Children Do Lie.

Do children lie? Yes; constantly, persistently and universally, says the Kindergarten Magazine. A child does not tell the truth because he could not.
He does not know the truth, and his approximation to the truth is very much vaguer than ours. And there are certain qualities of his mind which make it inevitable that he should pervert the truth. In the first place, truth is synonymous with knowledge. He does not know what truth is. In the second place (and it is the same with us), children gradually approximate the truth. They have their ideas of truth. In the third place, the child's imagination drives him often to tell what is not true.

Brain Work and Hair.

Everything physical being equal, it is established that the man who is engaged in professional work will grow gray sooner than will the man who earns his bread by the literal sweat of his brow. Thus by implication the man who has more and harder brain work than another—more worries, more troubles, more difficult thoughts, less vitality in proportion—this is the individual and the profession that soonest are marked by gray hairs.

Woman's Cruelty to Woman.

Another illustration of how mean a woman can be was given the other night when a young lady was calling on an elderly spinster who dresses and acts with unbecoming youthfulness.
The spinster showed her visitor a beautiful handmade lace collar and said proudly, "This is over fifty years old."
"It is beautiful!" purred the girl.
"Did you make it, dear?"—New York Press.

Advanced Ancestral Pride.

"So Woody is very rich now. When I knew him he was poor. His only treasure in those days was the musket his great-grandfather carried in the Revolution."
"Oh, his great-grandfather has been promoted since. Woody exhibits his sword now."—Philadelphia Press.

cealed weapons."—Life.

A Timely Thought

Fix your mind for a moment on the fact that stomach trouble and headache are symptoms of liver trouble and you will see why the so called dyspepsia cures fail to do their work. You must remove the cause by regulating the liver before you can expect relief.

They will go down to Clay Lick on the morning train where they will be met by vehicles that will convey them to the Smith home. An important feature of the occasion will be the orchard dinner, which will be served under the fruit laden branches of the orchard trees. The fact that Mr. Kirby Smith, the well known B. & O. conductor, and a son of the hostess, is on the committee of arrangements, is proof sufficient that the affair will be a complete success in every particular.

The Tuesday Afternoon Euchre club was entertained this week on Wednesday afternoon by Mrs. Edward Thomas. Mrs. Fred King won the prize for most progressions, Mrs. Fred Black received the prize for lone hands and Mrs. Geo. Blood received the guest prize.

A very pleasant event in society this week was one favorably carried out, when a few of the little friends of Gladys Walton remembered that June 29th was the fifth anniversary of her birth and gathering at her home greatly surprised Miss Gladys and spent an enjoyable time in playing games. interior of the house was charmingly decorated with flowers and helped to enhance the beauty of the scene as 32 young maidens fluttered about in their costumes of white like beams of sunshine. A feature of the reception was a cobweb hunt, which took place on the spacious lawn. Cards had been placed zigzag fashion and each guest was given a string. After considerable tangling and unwinding they finally were fortunate enough to secure something to compensate them for their labor. Some got a peanut, others a clothes pin, but the really fortunate ones were Miss Helen Core, who secured a fancy work basket and Miss Alice Barger, who got a miniature feather basket. There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a long time many doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure the local trouble, procured a general weakness. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Catarrh is caused by a germ, and is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally and acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer One Hundred Dollars for any cure that fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. MINDORO'S WHITE RACE.

Expedition to Aspinwall Whether One Exists in the Philippines.

The United States government proposes to run down the story of the existence of a race of good looking and energetic whites in the mountains of the island of Mindoro, in the Philippines, says Harper's Weekly. It appears that an expedition has been organized to penetrate into the interior of Mindoro and find out whether such people exist there. The story about them has been obstinately persistent. The best version of it seems to be based on the report of Manuel Castro, a Filipino, to one Lieutenant Lorenzo de Chairmont. Castro claims to have visited this white tribe, which, he says, has lived in the Philippines since long before the Spaniards came there and centers in a town of 20,000 inhabitants. He says that the members of the tribe are warlike and have effectually discouraged intrusion on their privacy by Spaniards, though they have dealings with trading Filipinos. The men are described as fair haired and blue eyed and the women as surprisingly handsome. They live in well kept homes, are fond of athletic sports and know agriculture and some of the arts.

Lieutenant de Chairmont's name does not appear in the army register for 1902, but if there is such an officer in the Philippines who has a well informed native friend Castro and if Castro is a truthful person and knows where he speaks there may be an interesting item of ethnological news coming from Mindoro, which will at least be useful to the makers of comic opera. There was a recent story that certain companies of isolated Jews had existed as Jews for centuries in western China, and on investigation it turned out to be true.

WORLD'S FAIR MUSIC.

Special Instrument to Be Built For Organ Recitals at St. Louis.

Preparations upon a large scale are being made for the music which is to be made a feature of the St. Louis exposition in 1904, says Harper's Weekly. There are to be indoor orchestral concerts and organ recitals, open-air hand concerts—for which there will be no admission charge—and performances of choral music on a large scale. The idea of the committee in charge of the musical arrangements is to aim at appealing rather to the popular taste than to the more limited demand for music of the highest class, although there will be no sacrifice of dignity in the programs. Considerable attention will be paid to works by American composers, which, it is hoped, will give a decided impetus to the best creative endeavor in native music.

Competent conductors are to be engaged for the orchestral concerts, among whom, it is expected, will be one of the celebrated "baton prima donnas"—as they are called abroad—of Europe. For the organ recitals, in which the most eminent American and foreign organists will take part, a special instrument will be constructed. It is to contain nearly 150 stops and will be, it is said, the largest organ in the world. The orchestral and organ concerts are to be held in Festival hall, the center of the main group of buildings.

NOVEL DIVORCE CURE.

Ruskin Faculty Says Women Should Try Psychology.

A Chicago special to the New York World says that the faculty of Ruskin university at Glen Ellyn, Ill., has started an antidivorce movement which encourages the study of psychology as the panacea for the evil. The theories of the faculty are set forth thus:

To discourage divorce girls should be taught psychology. Should take a course in housewifery. Should study: 1. Domestic bookkeeping. 2. Cookery. 3. English grammar and literature. 4. Art in nature. Should not study: 1. Stenography. 2. Mathematics. 3. Foreign and dead languages. Must not be business women, but home women.

A Hog Worth $17,957.

Seven-tenths of one Poland-China hog was recently sold at a swine sale in Macy, Ind., for $12,500. The owners of the other three-tenths retained their interest, so that the sale value of the animal was $17,957, says an Indianapolis special dispatch to the New York Herald. The first share sold for $1,300, and the bidding ran up to $2,050 for the seventh share. The animal will be kept for breeding purposes. It was the highest price ever paid for a hog. Ninety-six hogs sold for $60,000. A half interest in one animal fetched $4,400.

Arrangements are being made to accommodate a large crowd on the afternoon of the Fourth, and the attendance should be the best of the year. There is no reason why Idlewild park should not be the Mecca of all baseball fans Saturday afternoon, as they will see some clean, fast ball playing.

BETSY ROSS AND THE OLD FLAG HOUSE

By ISAAC L. KIP

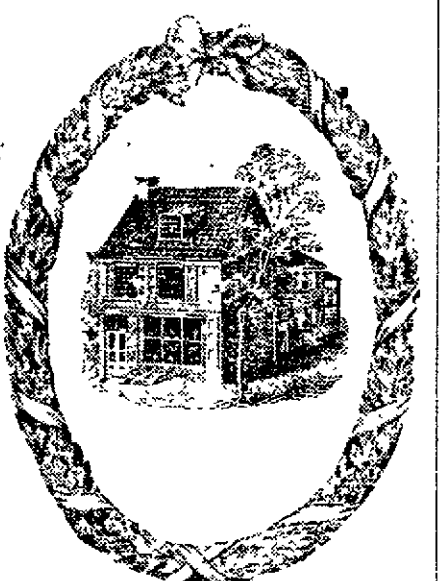

THE BETSY ROSS HOUSE AS IT APPEARS TODAY.

[Copyright, 1933, by W. L. Vail.]
PART of its unique symbolism and the noble associations clustering about its folds, the American flag has a special history which is of interest on Independence day. It did not float at Lexington and Bunker Hill nor wave over Independence hall on July 4, 1776. It became the flag of our country upon its formal adoption by the Continental congress, June 14, 1777.

The patriotic interest which of late years has centered especially upon the events of the Revolution has turned very positively to the details and circumstances involved with the origin and adoption of the stars and stripes as a national emblem, and a movement has long been under way to preserve for posterity the house where the young Quaker matron, Betsy Ross, with Washington's co-operation and approval, designed and perfected the first American flag.

The old flag house stands at 230 Arch street, Philadelphia, which is one of the most thorough and bustling streets of that great city. High stores tower on either side, and all around, in front and rear, activity as intense as any city can show is in fullest exercise. It is from this cause that this venerable relic has been most imperiled. Trade has in its progress cast envious eyes upon the site, and repeated efforts have been made to sacrifice sentiment to service. In view of all circumstances the fact of its preservation is almost miraculous. Other historic places have passed away under exposure to the same conditions which have threatened this. The house where Jefferson wrote the Declaration of Independence, the house Washington made his home while living in the city and many other localities which would now be of priceless value have succumbed to the invasion of private interest. What enhances the marvel of the deliverance of the flag house from the fate which has befallen its peers is the fact that for a large portion of the time it has occupied its place it had no reminiscent interest.

It is only of comparatively recent date that the people of this country awoke to the fact that the nation had a past or learned to make historic association a standard of value. Antiquarian interest does not date far back of the Centennial era. Prior to that our young nation lived more in the future than in the past. And, furthermore, it must be borne in mind that until a few years ago the flag house was private property, passing by purchase or inheritance into the hands of different owners, each with perfect legal right to make such disposition of it as might seem desirable, and with abundant opportunity, through frequent solicitation, to surrender the title deed. For the longer part of the time the building has been exposed to such contingencies there was not even public sentiment to restrain any owner from allowing it to pass into oblivion. Efforts also have been repeatedly made to have it taken down and re-erected in other cities, and even in Philadelphia it has been suggested as a compromise that it be transferred to Fairmount park and rebuilt there, as was done in the case of the old William Penn house, thus making it a reproduction, but practically destroying its identity. Thus it will be seen how narrow has been its escape from demolition and how timely are the efforts which have been so recently made for its rescue and preservation. It is almost a miracle that through all these possibilities of destruction it remained and stands today on its original site essentially unchanged from what it has been for over 200 years.

Apart from the event which gives it special honor and peculiarly endears it to the American people, it has a distinct claim for consideration on account of its antiquity and association with the past. The tradition that it was built of bricks brought over in the ship Welcome, which bore the Penn colony, may not be sustained, yet it is absolutely certain that it is one of the original buildings of the city, as the deed dates it back 150 years, which is as far as the record extends, but is no means as old as the property itself. It is a low ceiled, two story house, with one attic dormer window in the center of the sloping roof. The same small panes, set in their heavy sashes, and the old wooden shutters, with their handmade screws and fastenings, present the exterior as it has been for all these years. The front room, into which the same old fashioned street door ushers the visitors today, was changed into an upholstery shop at the time when Betsy Ross and her husband took up their home and piled their vocation there. But the little back parlor and its heavy oaken door, its triangular cupboard, its mantel and fireplace, are the same and as well preserved as when Betsy Ross entertained the congressional committee there 127 years ago.

Betsy Ross was the daughter of Samuel and Elizabeth Griscom and was born on the 1st day of January, 1752. Mr. Griscom was a builder of considerable repute and was associated in the erection of Independence hall. The family were Quakers, and Betsy was brought up in that faith. She is reputed to have grown up comely and amiable and to have had many suitors for her heart and hand. Following the dictates of her own affections, she accepted young John Ross, a nephew of George Ross, one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence, and was married to him in December, 1773. As he was an Episcopalian, she was disowned by the Quakers for marrying out of her faith and attended service with her husband at the now venerable old Christ church on Second street, near their residence, where among the worshippers she often saw the stately presence of Washington.

Notably deft with her needle, she proved a valuable assistant to her husband in his craft, and the little shop into which the front room was turned became a place of much resort for stately dames and general patrons, who found the taste and skill of the young mistress suited to their ideals and her engaging manners acceptable to their social demands.

It was a simple, happy home, but not destined to be of long continuance. When the war broke out John Ross connected himself with the army, though remaining in the city, and in January, 1776, was killed by an explosion of powder while guarding military stores in the city arsenal at the foot of Arch street, a short distance from their home. Being familiar with the business and having established the stand, Mrs. Ross continued it in the same house after her husband's death, and secured sufficient patronage through her skill and popularity to maintain herself comfortably with little thought of what the future held in reserve. But better times were in store for her. The adoption of a national emblem having come under the consideration of congress, a committee was appointed to draft a design, and accordingly one day in the early summer of 1776 Mrs. Ross was surprised by the entrance into her little shop of General Washington and Robert Morris, conducted thither by George Ross, who was well aware of the skill of his young kinswoman and so brought her the opportunity which eventually gave her fame.

The purpose of the call was soon made known, and to prevent interruption she took them into the back room. General Washington, with his eminent talent for details, had been studying a design, but upon conferring with his hostess it soon became apparent that she was more competent to elaborate the idea than themselves, and the committee agreed to submit the entire matter to her taste and discretion. The result of that memorable interview, which has invested that little room with such honor, is well known. Her design met general approval, and on the 14th day of June, 1777, was accepted and adopted by the Continental congress as the national emblem. This is the nation's debt to Betsy Ross. It was her correctness of taste and accuracy in proportion that devised the banner which has stood and will stand for all time as the standard of the land over which it waves. Something else might have been formed and framed, but nothing could have been more harmonious or simple or prophetic, and through the identification of herself with the flag Betsy Ross became a historic personage and is enrolled on the honored list of Revolutionary characters.

The adoption of the flag secured for Betsy Ross the authorization of the government to continue the work, and for many years she found active employment in the increasing call for flags as the nation enlarged its boundaries. It seems a pity that the original flag could not have been preserved. Had it survived through all the intervening years it would have been a priceless precious relic now. But no peculiar value seems to have been set upon it. It was used on the field as any other 15th day of June, 1777, the day after the adoption of the flag, she was married to John Ashburne, captain of the privateer Luzerne, who, while not enlisted in the navy, did his country good service on the seas and struck many a blow against British craft. But the fortunes of war eventually went against him, as his vessel was captured by a British frigate, and the gallant captain was imprisoned in Mills prison, England, where he died about two years after marriage. Two children were born from this marriage, one of whom died in infancy, and the other, a daughter, lived to become the wife of Adam Sullivan.

Among Captain Ashburne's fellow prisoners, and with whom he became intimately associated, was John Claypoole, a Philadelphia and a Revolutionary soldier, who was wounded in battle and taken prisoner and carried also to Mills prison. He was afterward exchanged for a British prisoner, and returning to his home, he delivered Captain Ashburne's dying message to his wife, became himself captivated by her attractions and in due time married her. But the same sad fatality attended her third marriage might have been and was lost in the attack on Fort Mifflin in the autumn following its adoption. It was not captured, but having probably been torn by shot from its staff it was blown away by the wind and in all likelihood submerged in the Schuylkill river.

While as Betsy Ross she made the flag, and as Betsy Ross her name is indelibly associated with it, yet Betsy Ross she soon ceased to be, for on the as characterized the two preceding ones. Mr. Claypoole's health was undermined by his wound and imprisonment, and in a few years he, too, died, leaving five children.

Betsy Ross died in 1850 and was buried by the side of her last husband in Mount Moriah cemetery, where the large number of visitors to her grave attest the affectionate interest she has inspired.

ALABAMA TREE PLANTING.

Pine, Chestnut and Oak to be Planted on 1,800 Acres.

A planting plan has recently been prepared by the bureau of forestry for 1,800 acres of land in Cullman county, Ala., owned by Louis Albrichts and valued at from $125 to $3 per acre, says Boston Ideas. The planting will be done in several different locations, but all in Cullman county. Work will begin as soon as ground ceases to be fall and will continue through the winter, except in freezing weather. The first season's work will include the planting of loblolly pine seedlings collected in the forest on a tract of 160 acres of open woods. Two hundred and eighty acres will be planted with chestnut and white and post oak. A seed bed will be prepared for the raising of loblolly pine for a tract of 640 acres, as it is considered not advisable to use entirely stock collected from the forest.

All this planting is based on the fact that, while immense quantities of loblolly are being cut in that locality, there is little or no reproduction on the land in question, due chiefly to annual fires set to improve the pasture. Mr. Albrichts will have a fire patrol system. It is proposed also to treat a tract of 640 acres to improve the natural reproduction by the prevention of fires.

Labor may be obtained at $15 per month, hence the work can be done at very small cost. It is estimated that the planting will cost only from $2 to $3 per acre.

Loblolly pine is to be planted for the production of lumber, chestnut for posts and telegraph poles and oak for railroad ties.

ENGLAND'S WALKING CRAZE

Persons in All Ranks of Life Engage in Pedestrianism.

Walking contests on the lines of the famous London Stock Exchange tramp have acquired an irresistible fascination among men in all parts of England, says a special cable dispatch from London to the Chicago Inter Ocean.

Even cyclists are putting their machines on one side in order to vigorously train for a fifty mile walk; civil servants are forgetting the cares of red tape in their eagerness to find which is the fastest walker among their number, and barristers' clerks find the work of receiving briefs and fees all the sweeter by the prospects of a heel and toe contest promoted by their own fraternity.

Manchester stockbrokers are to walk against Liverpool stockbrokers. Liverpool cotton and shipping men, Cardiff coal merchants, the hoisting men of Burton and various other business men in different parts of the country are in steady training.

GEN. DICK TALKS ABOUT THE BIG CAMP.

Mt. Vernon-Newark Electric—An Auto Race Today—Twins Born on Different Days at Coshocton.

Columbus, O., July 4.—Gen. Charles Dick who yesterday consulted the governor and Adjutant General Gyger will go to Newark with Gens. McMaken and Speaks next week to look over the state ground and lay out the camp in a general way.

Gen. Dick said it was not definitely settled that Ohio will send a regiment to West Point, Ky., this fall to attend the government maneuvers. Gen. Dick thinks that the regiment which makes the best showing at the big camp in Newark next month is the one that should be sent to Kentucky. This would be best for the state and would afford some incentive to the regiments to do good work at the state camp.

RECOLLECTION

OF THE OLD NEWARK MACHINE SHOPS.

Established Half Century Ago Where Brewery Now Stands—First Plant of Consequence in Newark.

"One of Newark's earliest and most important manufacturing plants—probably the earliest of the large plants"—said an old subscriber to an Advocate reporter, "was the old Newark Machine works between First and Second streets between the feeder.

This is the same establishment which was later remodeled and fitted and made over into a modern and up-to-date brewery plant, now used by the Newark Consumers' Brewing company. These large fine works were established about fifty years ago as a machine shop for making engines and boilers of all kinds, and were considered quite an extensive and important plant for those days. For many years they were the only large shops of any consequence in Newark, as they preceded the B. & O. shops, the glass works and the Scheidler & McNamar shops and other well known manufacturing plants of the city, by a number of years. The Advocate's informant well remembers when he was quite a little boy that the old Newark Machine works were the important manufacturing interest of Newark, and he also remembers that the works had a bell that used to be rung regularly every night at nine o'clock as a retiring signal for the small boys and girls of the city. A number of years later these shops were purchased by Henry Blandy and others of Zanesville, and were then known as the Blandy Machine works, continuing in the manufacture of engines and boilers. The Advocate's informant regrets that he has not fuller and more accurate data in regard to the old machine works, but he remembers that from the early fifties to about the outbreaking of the war it continued to be Newark's important manufacturing establishment, employing perhaps one hundred men in all its departments and turning out a high grade of work. Mr. Willard Warner was the active head of the shops and its business manager for several years. He, it will be remembered, went out with the famous Seventy-sixth regiment that was made up principally of men of Licking county, at the outbreak of the Civil war, as its major. He afterwards became a general and at the close of the war a United States Senator from Alabama, and he is still living in Chattanooga, Tenn. General Warner was one of a famous trio who went out at the head of this regiment the other two being brothers, and one of them a brother-in-law of General Warner. The first of the latter two was Col. Chas. R. Woods, who afterwards became Major General, and was the father of Dr. G. H. Woods of this city, and the third was William B. Woods, his brother, who went out as a Lieutenant Colonel of this regiment and afterwards became a Justice of the United States Supreme Court. A great many men who afterwards became prominent and successful business men themselves, were among the employees of the old Newark Machine works. Among them were the late John H. McNamar, Reinhart Scheidler, the Dales, James, Frank and John, one of them being the father-in-law of Julius McNamar of this city, the Babbitts, C. B. Giffin, the late James M. Browne, Sr., Richard Markham and many others whose names cannot now be recalled.

Newark may have had larger manufacturing plants since—plants that had more names on their pay roll and expended more money in the city, but she has never had a plant in which her citizens were more deeply interested or that were more beneficial to the city of Newark in proportion to the times, than was the old Newark Machine works. All honor to the memory of the old shop, and the noble men who worked there, as manager and employee. They wrought much good for their city and their time, and their memory should never be forgotten. Well would it be if the old nine o'clock bell could once more peal forth its wonted notes a requiem of departed days and departed worth.

REST ROOMS

Rooms in Lansing House Block Formally Opened Friday Evening—W. C. T. U. Notes.

The ladies of the W. C. T. U. who are foremost in every good word and work have taken another marked step in advance in the establishment of Rest Rooms in this city, similar to those that have been so successfully operated in the larger cities of this country and the old world. They have secured three large, handsomely furnished rooms on the second floor of the newly remodelled Lansing block, north side of the public square, in the east end of the block, in the rear of Miller's barber shop. The entrance is through the alley on the east side of the barber shop.

The rooms were formally opened with a dedicatory service on Friday evening, consisting of an evangelistic meeting assisted by different ministers of the city. Hereafter the Rest Rooms will be open from 9 a. m. until sun down each day. Lunch will be served at the rooms to those who may desire it at moderate rates. The purpose of establishing these rooms is to give a suitable place of rest to parties coming in from the country or from the city, where they may rest and refresh themselves during intervals of shopping or other down town excursions. Toilet rooms and accessories will be furnished in connection with the Rest Rooms, also newspapers, magazines and a library.

This is decidedly a good movement upon which the W. C. T. U. is to be congratulated and the public generally will unite in wishing for it perfect success.

Meetings are held regularly every Tuesday afternoon in the parlor of the First M. E. church. All departments are active. The opening of the Rest and Reading room is the special work of the union at present.

Thursday, July 30th will be a Mothers' meeting which will be in charge of the superintendent.

On August 7th a business meeting and reception to members will be held at which the reports of the various superintendents will be heard.

They will all enjoy an opportunity of seeing grouped together the stars of the vaudeville world, at a price of admission which is nominal. Below is a picture of the pony, harness and runabout, which will be given as a grand prize to the person holding the lucky number on the last evening of the Carnival.
